Dear Government Partners and Policy Leaders,

The Bharat Bio Energy Association (BBEA) is proud to announce the launch of a collaborative program aimed at enhancing partnerships with government bodies, renewable energy departments, and policy institutions across India.

Through this initiative, we seek to:

- Provide technical inputs, research insights, and community data to strengthen bio-energy schemes.
- Facilitate stakeholder consultations and knowledge exchange between academia, industry, and policymakers.

BBEA, as a non-profit organization, stands ready to serve as a bridge between field innovators, institutions, and policy leaders to ensure that sustainable energy policies reach every corner of the nation.

We invite government departments, development boards, and public institutions to join hands with us in co-developing and implementing impactful energy initiatives.
